

Welcome to Hidden Gem Technical Services!

Contributed by Web Master
Saturday, 11 February 2006
Last Updated Thursday, 18 September 2008

Hidden Gem Technical Services offers services and support in areas revolving around PC and networking, domain and systems management, custom web sites, home automation, and musical recording. We can help simplify your technical systems and make things manageable again. Through the use of open-source packages (ie. free to use) where available, we help keep your costs low.

We offer:

- PC and networking support, anti-virus, anti-spam, anti-spyware, specific application support, repair and upgrades
- Domain and network services management, email, DHCP, DNS, switches, routers, firewalls, Internet connections, network design and installation
- Custom and content-managed web sites, design, web art, corporate logos, identity packages, hosting management
- DIY home automation, integrated control of lighting, audio/visual systems, weather, announcements, security, telephone, heating/HVAC, remote control, and other systems
- Music and audio recording, digital recording services, composition, support
- Internet broadcasting, digital audio, etc.
- Reasonable rates, excellent results

If you don't see it here, don't fret! Drop us a note outlining your needs/wants, and we'll discuss possible projects. We have experience and partners with many, many projects under their belts that are not listed here. Let us help you simplify and manage your technical systems so that you can concentrate on your core business.

- Gordon Cunningham, owner